➤ Dictionary Maintenance Interface Update

This release is a modification level release to introduce a new interface for the maintenance of the Data Dictionaries within AO.

The new maintenance interface for the dictionaries in AO introduces an advanced cursor sensitive functionality and navigation concept to improve the users ability to manage the tasks and functions available.

This interface is provided with full cursor sensitive help text throughout.

This advanced interface will be gradually introduced to all of AO Foundations panels as changes or enhancements are released in the future.

To understand and to make the best use of this new mouse sensitive interface, refer to the following link for assistance in configuring your client.
